FOREWORD

The annual graduate follow-up survey collects information from graduates of regular and non-regular training programs approximately one year following graduation. The information gathered provides valuable feedback on the success of graduates in the labour market and is an important tool for decision-makers. This tool, along with other sources, is incorporated into the Department's planning process.

This report presents the findings of the Survey of 2009 New Brunswick Community College Graduates. The survey was conducted with 1,099 graduates over a sixteen week period starting July 21st, 2010. This represents a response rate of 62%.

The reference week for the survey was June 6th – June 12th, 2010. Survey results indicate that graduates of the Class of 2009 were again very successful in locating employment, with an employment rate of 90%.

The Department would like to thank the New Brunswick Community College graduates who participated in this survey; their input has been invaluable.

Graduate follow-up survey results will be located on our website at the following location: http://www.gnb.ca/0126/index-e.asp.

As always, your comments and suggestions are welcome. Please forward all communication on this year's survey to:

Female graduates working full-time in positions related to their training earned 90% of the average wages of male graduates in similar positions, an increase of six percentage points over that reported in 2009 (84%).

1.0 Introduction

Follow-up surveys with graduates of New Brunswick Community College (NBCC) have been conducted since 1983. For the past twenty-one years the survey has been conducted by telephone. The survey is conducted annually with graduates of regular and non-regular programs of the campuses. On April 1, 2010, changes were made to the governance of the New Brunswick Community College, resulting in autonomous English and French community college corporations. This is the first year that a separate report has been published for New Brunswick Community College graduates.

For the 2010 survey, interviews were completed with 1,099 graduates from a total listing of 1,774 graduates who were eligible to participate in the survey.

The data supplied by these surveys provides valuable feedback on the success of New Brunswick Community College graduates in the labour market, which, in turn, serves as an important indicator of how well the training provided by the NBCC system corresponds to the demands of the labour market.

This report provides detailed information gathered from the Survey of 2009 New Brunswick Community College Graduates through five sections, which are summarized in the material which follows.

- Section 2.0 presents the methodology of the 2010 survey and provides a profile of the graduates contacted with a comparison with the overall population of graduates.
- Section 3.0 presents the information highlights from the 2010 survey.
- Section 4.0 presents fact sheets that report the survey information on a program-by-program basis.
- Section 5.0 presents labour market information on a program-by-program basis.
- Section 6.0 presents the evaluations provided by graduates of programs and services offered at NBCC.

A list of the terminology used in this report is provided in Appendix A.

2.0 Methodology

The Survey of 2009 New Brunswick Community College Graduates was guided by researchers from the Labour Market Analysis Branch of the Department of Post-Secondary Education, Training and Labour (the Department). Any comments or questions about the information contained in this document should be forwarded to the Department.

In July 2010, the New Brunswick Community College generated a database with background and current contact information for 1,792 graduates from the Class of 2009. The background data and required contact information was retrieved from the NBCC's student information management system.

Prior to the start of the survey (in July 2010), the database was reduced by fourteen (14) graduates for whom no current telephone numbers were available. During the data collection period, four (4) additional graduate was removed from the original list because they were deceased (2) or indicated they were not a graduate of a 2009 program (2). Following removal of these names from the database, there were 1,774 potential contacts for the Class of 2009. The 1,099 interviews completed represent 62% of the total number of graduates who were eligible to participate in this survey.

As in previous surveys, graduates were asked about their activities during a specific week of the year (the reference week). Reference week information is an indicator of graduates' current activities. The reference week for the 2010 survey was June 6th – June 12th, 2010.

In addition to reference week information and information collected on activities since completing their training, graduates were also asked to evaluate their NBCC training program and various facilities and services available at their campus.

The overall approach to the Graduate Follow-Up Survey was changed in 1996. Previously, surveys were conducted in March, capturing information from graduates of the previous academic year. The change in the time of the reference week should be kept in mind when comparing the results from the surveys in 1996 - 2010 to those conducted in previous years. For example, the question asking respondents if they were studying during the reference week gave very different results in 1996 - 2010 compared to previous years. These differences are understandable considering that most people enrolled in post-secondary institutions would be attending classes in March but not in June.

This survey was administered by telephone, using a Computer Assisted Telephone Interviewing (CATI) system, and an attempt was made to contact all graduates, regardless of their current area of residence. Graduates were assured of absolute confidentiality of responses and were informed of their valuable contribution to the study. MarketQuest-Omnifacts' toll-free number was provided to graduates if they had any questions or apprehensions about the survey. Graduates were given the option to complete the survey in French or English. Data collection for this study was completed during the summer/fall of 2010.

The 2010 survey response rate of 62% is lower than the 80% that was achieved historically. In recent years, it has required additional time for data collection to achieve the desired response rate.

The table that follows presents a summary of NBCC response rates for the surveys over the 2006 – 2010 period. As shown in the table, response rates have varied over the past five years, however, they are still consistently lower than the historical rate of 80%.

Table 1: NBCC Response Rates 2006-2010

	Graduate Population	Survey Population	Response Rate
2010 Regular/Non-Regular	1,774	1,099	62%
2010 Regular	1,496	938	63%
2009 Regular/Non-Regular	1,898	1,326	70%
2009 Regular	1,500	1,066	71%
2008 Regular/Non-Regular	1,828	1,275	70%

2007 Regular/Non-Regular	1,735	1,227	71%

2006 Regular/Non-Regular	1,750	1,340	77%
2006 Regular	1,426	1,099	77%

Measuring labour market participation is a primary objective of the graduate follow-up surveys. Because of the importance of this information, an attempt was made to determine the extent to which a change in the time of the reference week (initiated in 1996) affected the results of reported labour force activity. The potential effects were initially monitored in the 1996 survey and monitoring has continued through to the current survey.

As shown in the following table, the labour force participation rate was higher in June (96%) than in March (90%). However, the employment rate was similar in June (90%) and in March (89%).

3.2 ADDITIONAL EDUCATION/ TRAINING FOR GRADUATES

In surveys prior to 2001, graduates were asked if they were attending an educational institution or training program at the time of survey contact. Since 2001, respondents have been asked if they were attending an educational institution or training program or planning to attend in the near future.

As demonstrated in the table that follows, the percentage of graduates attending or planning to attend an educational institution or training program (26%) has increased by four percentage points since 2009 (22%).

[5] Employment details including job classification, hours of work, average wages, and occupation were not collected for 20 graduates who were on maternity leave or on a block release during the reference week.

As with previous years, the majority of employed graduates (66%) were employed in positions directly related to their training. Overall, related employment (directly and indirectly) has remained relatively stable over the past year (80% compared to 82% in 2009), though decreases are evident since 2007.

Graduates working full-time averaged 41 hours in the reference week with an average wage of $619. Graduates working part-time averaged 22 hours with an average wage of $337.

The table which follows provides more detailed information on wages reported by gender and job classification.

[6] Not all respondents could be classified on a full-time or part-time basis due to a lack of information provided.

Graduates were asked for their perceptions about the wages they earned in the reference week. Overall:

- 10% of employed graduates reported that their wages were much better than those of others in similar positions;
- 24% reported that their wages were better than those of others in similar positions;
- 46% reported that their wages were the same as those for others in similar positions; and
- 20% reported that their wages were worse (6%) or much worse (4%) than those for others in similar positions.

The table which follows shows the average full-time and part-time wages of employed graduates based on their perceptions of these wages. As shown below, there appears to be a relationship between the full-time wages earned in the reference week and perceptions about those wages, whereby the higher the full-time wages, the more positive the perception of these wages compared to wages in other similar positions.

The table that follows summarizes the length of time graduates have been employed in the reference week job. Similar to previous years, the majority of employed graduates (68%) have been employed in the reference week job for at least 31 weeks.

Industrial Classification of Employment

Starting with the 1999 Survey, industries in which graduates were employed in the Reference Week were coded according to the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS). Should researchers want to compare employment in industrial sectors for 1999-2010 with other graduate survey data, a conversion program would be required. Conversion programs are available through Statistics Canada. Note that the NAICS numbers used represent major groupings within NAICS.

Most commonly, employed graduates worked in the industries of Health Care and Social Assistance (20%) and Construction (16%).

Gender Differences in Wages

In past graduate surveys, gaps have been identified between the overall wages of male and female graduates. In 2010, male graduates averaged $645 per week in full-time positions, while female graduates in full-time positions averaged $584 per week, a gap of approximately 9%.

Since it has been demonstrated that males and females tend to be employed in different occupations, gaps may be expected; however, as shown in the following table, similar wage gaps may not necessarily exist when male and female graduates are employed in the same occupations.

Unemployed and Not in the Labour Force

Overall, 10% of graduates contacted (n=108) were unemployed in the reference week. The table which follows demonstrates that the unemployment rate varied considerably when segmented by campus. Information on unemployment rates within programs is presented in Section 5.0.

Unemployment Rate by Campus

Fredericton	-	St. Andrews	14%
Miramichi	22%	Woodstock	9%
Moncton	8%	NBCCD	-
Saint John	8%

Graduates who were not working during the reference week (n=149) were asked to provide the main reason for their not working. Graduates who were not working include those who were unemployed and those who were not in the labour force.

Most commonly, graduates were not working during the reference week because of an inability to find work (33%).

Table 27: Main Reason for Not Working During the Reference Week
Unable to find work/ lack of jobs	33%
Inability to find jobs related to NBCC training	18%
In school/training full-time	17%

Own illness or disability	7%
Personal or family responsibilities	5%
Other mentions	8%

Twenty-nine percent of graduates not working during the reference week (n=43) were attending or planning to attend an educational institution or training program. These graduates provided the following reasons for their return to an educational institution or training program:

- to upgrade existing skills (49%);
- to learn a new trade or occupation (16%);
- to get a university degree (12%);
- to get a better/more interesting job (12%);
- to find employment (7%); and
- to finish blocks (4%).

3.6 OTHER SURVEY FINDINGS

Employment Since Graduation

The strong majority of graduates (98%) have been employed since graduation; and those employed averaged 1.7 different jobs. The percentage of graduates who have been employed since graduation has remained consistent with the past year (98% for the previous class of graduates).

Motivations for Community College Enrollment

Beginning with the 1999 survey, all graduates were asked why they had decided to pursue their training at NBCC rather than through a university or private training program. Overall, graduates offered the following reasons for pursuing training at NBCC:

- the training is only offered at a particular campus (23%);
- tuition/costs (22%);
- not interested in attending university (18%);
- reputation of NBCC (11%);
- the location of a particular campus (8%);
- length of program (6%);
- job prospects (5%);
- other reasons (5%); and
- unsure (2%)

When asked why they had selected a particular campus for their program of study, the following reasons were provided:

- location (69%);
- particular program was available only at the campus selected (18%);
- reputation (4%);
- where they were accepted (2%);
- friends/relatives attended/currently attending same campus (2%);
- other reasons (4%) and
- unsure (1%).

The strong majority of graduates (90%) were accepted to NBCC in the year in which they made their initial application.

Overall, 81% of graduates reported that based on their experiences since completing the program, they would select the same field of study if they were making the decision about enrollment today.

Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition and Credit Transfer Services

Graduates were asked questions to determine their awareness, use and evaluation of PLAR and Credit Transfer Services. Overall:

- 62% of graduates reported that they were aware of these services; and
- 38% were not aware of these services.

When contacted in 2009, 58% of graduates reported awareness of PLAR and Credit Transfer Services.

Among those who were aware of these services (n=676):

- 57% heard about PLAR through their campus;
- 31% heard about PLAR through word-of-mouth;
- 7% heard about PLAR through other means; and
- 5% were unsure.

Of graduates who were aware of these services, 20% (n=133) have used them (12% of all graduates). Of those who have used these services:

- 68% have applied for Credit Transfer;
- 23% have applied for a Prior Learning Assessment; and
- 9% have applied for both.

Graduates who have applied for one or both of these services were asked if they had received course credit for courses taken at another institution or from an employer. The majority of these graduates (75%) reported that they had received course credit. This course credit resulted in a reduced course load for 71%, reduced tuition for 3%, reduced course load and tuition for 11%, and some other result for the remaining 15%.

The graduates who received course credit (n=100) provided the following evaluations of the services they received:

- 55% were very satisfied;
- 42% were satisfied; and
- 3% were unsatisfied.

Peer Tutoring

Seventy-seven percent of graduates were aware of peer tutoring at NBCC. Among graduates who were aware (n=851), 11% reported that they had used the peer tutoring system. Graduates who had used the peer tutoring system (n=93) provided the following evaluations of the effectiveness of the assistance provided through peer tutoring:

- 48% provided a rating of excellent;
- 43% provided a rating of good;
- 4% provided a rating of fair; and
- 4% provided a rating of poor.

Post Program Artistic Involvement of NBCCD Graduates

Graduates of the New Brunswick College of Craft and Design (n=8) were asked several questions about their post-training involvement with the arts community in New Brunswick.

Since graduation, one NBCCD graduate had applied to the New Brunswick Arts Board or the Canada Council for funding to promote or prepare his/her craft. This graduate received an award or grant valued at $3,500.

Since graduation, 63% of NBCCD graduates (n=5) reported that they have contributed to the arts through donations or in other ways.

During the reference week, 50% of those who had completed a program through NBCCD (n=4) were practising their craft or preparing for an exhibit for which they were not paid.

The sections which follow present information about graduates on a program-by-program basis.

4.0 Survey Results by Campus and Program

The following section contains a fact sheet for the CCNB Class of 2009, fact sheets for male and female graduates, a fact sheet for each campus and fact sheets for all programs for which more than 3 graduates were interviewed. Information is presented first in summary form if the program is offered in more than one location, followed by information on the program for each campus.

The programs which follow have been excluded from the program fact sheets because of the small number of graduates reached (3 or less). Although excluded from this section, labour market information for programs in which graduates were contacted may be found in Section 5.0.
